

NEW BATTERY AND SERVICE

Bricon Clocks and Master Systems contain a Battery which is necessary to maintain the time whenever it is disconnected from a power supply. It is not possible to predict exactly how long a battery will last as a number of factors have an influence such as temperature extremes and simple variations from one battery to another. The clocks do have a self-diagnostic low battery warning message, but the nature of batteries is such that when the voltage starts to fall, you have a very limited time before the battery is flat. You can of course wait for the low battery warning to show, but if this were to happen in the middle of the racing season then it would likely leave you without a clock for a while. We aim to provide a service time of under 1 week. You are therefore best advised to address the matter outside of racing during the winter months.

The Bricon Battery Service would involve your Speedy clock undergoing the following routine

- ✓ Your name and data would be backed up and then reloaded after the service.
- ✓ The outer housing and keypad would be disposed of and cleaning undertaken.
- ✓ The old battery would be replaced with a brand new long life BRICON battery.
- ✓ Checks made and rectifications carried out to any battery circuitry issues.
- ✓ The contrast of the Liquid Crystal Display would be adjusted if necessary.
- ✓ Genuine BRICON holographic seals would be attached for security reassurance.
- ✓ A new outer housing and keypad will give your clock the 'as brand new' look.
- ✓ The clock would be updated with the latest version of the Speedy software.
